New Superintendents Seminar Series

Work with a Cohort of your Colleagues

ACSA's New Superintendents Seminar Series (NSSS) is the only professional development series that is specifically designed for the first and second year superintendent. The program provides first and second year superintendents with a cohort of new superintendent colleagues in a yearlong program of blended learning including three, two-day workshops as well as paced and focused virtual sessions to be calendared with input from our cohort in our orientation session. NSSS allows new superintendents to tackle current issues in a confidential and supportive setting with the guidance of experienced, successful superintendents. If you are a new superintendent, NSSS is the cohort and professional development for you.

Audience

This workshop is designed for first and second year superintendents

Practical topics will be included, such as:

- Negotiations and labor relations - Setting the stage for success
- Governance- Appreciating, respecting and developing a strong governance team culture
- Commonalities of successful first year superintendents
- Building a culture of equity, inclusion and success
- First year pitfalls to avoid at all cost
